THE Jackson Whig advises the Columbia papers to cease their wrangling, as they have no ability to spare in that direction. This, coming from the Whig. whose principal argument is abuse, is the result of some imprudence in drink and diet. The same disease has been killing people in Memphis also.

THE Mail says it would be burdensome county to subscribe $250,000 to build railroads through the county, but says it should be done by private enterprise, and even proposes to be one of a number to make up a "pony purse" for the purpose. The people of Maury county own $10,000,000, (ten million of dollars) worth of property. Now if it is oppress- intend to continue to advocate this ive on men owning ten millions of doi- policy. lars to pay $250,000, how much more oppressive would it be on men owning only $1,000,000 (one million dollars) worth of property to subscribe

If the Assessor has a reasonable doubt up are able to show, that railroads benefit the whole community, every man in the whole community, every man in the whole community, every man in the excess in value is taxable, though it the whole community, every man in proportion to his property, and therefore we contend that all should pay in proportion to the benefits they receive. The idea of a country being oppressed and bankrupted, by the building of railroads or other improvements, is preposterous, and is contradicted by every day 's experience. If a man should spend $,1000, and increase the yalue of his property $5,000, would this oppress or bankrupt him? In the same way, if a county should pay that he was oppressed? If only men who took stock, were benefited by railroads, then, private subscription might do, but when men who take no stock, often receive more benefits than those who take stock, this is unjust and unfair. By county or town subscription, all pay in proportion to the benefits they receive.

By doing this he will still maintain his high character for philantbropy and half educated and half cultivated have high character for philanthropy and patriotism, and confer a great bless-

The Governor eloquently proclaims the Southern women to be the highest type and model of womanhood, and the reason he assigns for this is, that they have always had the care of a weak and ignorant race, and that this dependent, domestic charge which Providence gave them, has developed the noblest traits of character and the warmest feelings of philantnropy. The kind attentions they have given to their servants have lifted them above the cold atmosphere of avarice and selfishnesss, and made them patterns of whatsoever things are pure, lovely, and of good report. If glavery was an evil, it has bred the best race of men and women the world ever saw.

The Memphis Register, in speaking of Grant's shameless and usurging exercise of authority in Louisiana, says:

"The President deserves successful impeachment. Half as much from Axbrane Johnson would have secured it. He was more imbeelle, powerless and prudent than Grant, and hence he escaped." Could anything be more imbeelle or malignant than the Register's last paragraph?

We have differed with our neighbor about a county subscription for railroads, but we are agreed upon the main point now before the people of Maury county, and that is to raise enough by private subscription to put the road under contract to Lewisburg. Let us first do this, and then we can consider the other questions.

Will the Mail tell us of any railroad that has been built alone or mainly by private enterprise?

Will it tell us of any county that has not been benefited by railroad subscription to five times the amount of that

The Assessors are not, nor is the Comptroller responsible for the law. Their duty is to see to its enforcement in such manner as will promote the interests of the State, without doing injustice to any class of the people. To those who do not comprehend the requirements of the act, every admissible indulgence should be extended. Those who openly dely the law that they may continue to screen from taxation that portion of their wealth which has herefore been invisible to the public eye and there by avoided the payment of its share of the expenses of the State, deserve no sympathy from officials nor from those who honestly contribute their proportion of the taxes which go to the support of the government.

no case whatever will it fail to cure if the di-rections are strictly followed and carried at In a great many cases a single dose has Leen sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, howrestoration of the general health. It is, how-ever, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after Taying taken three or four doses of the tonic a start of the later.
